HAD I BUT KNOWN.

Had I but known that nothing is undone
From rising until rising of the sun,
That full-fledged words fly off beyond our reach,
That not a deed brought forth to life dies ever,
I would have measured out and weighed my speech:
To bear good deeds had been my sole endeavor,
Had I but known!

Had I but known how swiftly speed away
The living hours that make the living day,
That 'tis above delay's so dangerous slough
Is hung the luring wisp-light of to-morrow,
I would have seized time's evanescent Now!
I would be spared this unavailing sorrow,
Had I but known!

Had I but known to dread the dreadful fire
That lay in ambush at my heart's desire,
Wherefrom it sprang and smote my naked hand
And left a mark forever to remain,
I would not bear the fire's ignoble brand;
I would have weighed the pleasure with the pain
Had I but known!

Had I but known we never can repeat
Life's spring-time freshness or its summer heat,
Nor gathered second harvest from life's field,
Nor aged winter change to youthful spring,
To me life's flowers their honey all would yield
I would not feel one wasted moment's sting,
Had I but known!
—Hunter MacCulloch in Lippincott's.

Fishing on a Foggy Morning.

Casting a meditative glanced towards where the sun had gone down, the old rounder began: "Well gentleman, I had a little experience of my own, once. I went down the Chattahoochee river, in Decatur county, to visit an old friend. He had often told me of the splendid fishing there, and I was anxious to try it. It was late in the evening when I got there, and I retired early, so as to be ready for the fun next day. I asked how far it was to the creek, and they told me it was only a few hundred yards, just beyond the fence.

"By light, next morning, I was up, and secured a good tackle and a few sawyers. I started off toward the creek. The fog was so heavy, for it was wood's burning time, that I could not see any distance ahead of me, and so I groped my way as best I could across the little clearing. Reaching the fence I climbed over, and picking my way carefully, for I did not want to fall in the creek, I proceed slowly down the slope until I thought I must be near the water's edge. Baiting my hook I threw it forward, and just about time enough for it to strike the water I felt a pull, and with a jerk I brought in a fine fellow. For ten minutes I stood there and pulled them in, and then, fearing that I would spoil one day's sport, I regrettully retired, and by accident I reached the house through the fog.

After breakfast the fog lifted and we got ready for a day's enjoyment. You may imagine my surprise, when, on going to the place where I had caught so many early in the morning, I found that it was a full 100 yards from the bank of the creek. The truth is, I had not touched the water, but just stood there and caught them out of the fog."—Atlanta Constitution.

Anecdotes of the Grim Sort.

The gunner was a mile away, and the cannon shot came whisking through the air for three or four seconds and took off the front legs of the horse that Hill sat on and let the animal down on his pegs. The horse's head was so low and his croup so nigh that Hill was in a most ludicrous position. With one foot in the stirrup he made several efforts to get the other leg over the croup, but failed. Finally we prevailed on him to try the other end of the horse and get down. He had a third horse shot under him before the close of the battle. That was the second best shot I ever saw. The best was at Yorktown. There a Federal officer came out in front of our line, and sitting down to his little-platting table, began to make a map. One of our officers carefully sighted a gun, touched it off, and dropped a shell into the hands of the man at the little table.—Gen. Longstreet in The Century.

Origin of "Honest Little Emma."

I notice in your issue of to-day a query as to how I came by the sobriquet of "Honest Little Emma." I think it but right to enlighten your inquiring correspondent and the public generally upon the subject. The title "Honest Little Emma" was first applied to me by Mr. and Mrs. George Lake, of New York, who were among the first to subscribe toward my musical education and who also always alluded to me as a "365-day girl," meaning that I was always to be depended upon every day in the year. The idea did not emanate from the brain of manager or advance agent.—Emma Abbot in Rochester Democrat.

Chinese Bed-Making on Mott Street.

House-cleaning and bed-making occur usually between breakfast and lunch and are very primitive in character. The beds as described are bunks or shelves covered with white Canton matting and the pillows wooden foot-rests. The man of all work simply sponges off bed and pillow alike with a sponge dipped in water, containing a little chloride off lime or eau de javelle, and allows the heat of the room to dry them off. This novel way of making beds has one advantage. It disinfects room and inmates and destroys whatever vermin there may be about.—New York Letter.

Rochefort's Pluck as a Duelist.

M. Rochefort may be a person of sensative nerves, but he is also a man of some pluck. He goes to a park in Paris on set afternoons to see the running races. Now in his latest dueling scrape the hour for the fight was fixed close upon that for the race; so what did Rochefort do but rearrange matters in order that the powder might be burnt at St. Ouen, where the races were to come off. But it was nearly a miss after all—the other fellow's bullet sang so close along by the tip of his left ear as to sting it.—Baltimore Herald.

A Hater of American Newspapers.

Henry M. Stanley, the African explorer, has conceived an intense dislike of the United States and American institutions. He especially hates the press, and rails at it in a manner to bring blushes to the cheek of a native African. He is laboring under the delusion that the journals of this country have treated him unkindly.—Cleveland Leader.

Development of the Feeble-Minded.

Mr. Richards, who electrified the national conference of charities at Washington last year by his eloquent plea for the feeble-minded, could take to his heart, as he did many years ago, a boy 8½ years old with a mind so blank that every sense—sight, hearing, taste, touch—all were mute; he had never smiled, did not know his own mother, could not stand on his feet or even roll over on the floor where he lay. Mr. Richards took him to the institution, bestowed every hygienic care upon him, but for weeks could not discover one conscious want. Think how full of wants the normal child is, and thus measure the complete torpor of this one's mind. Mr. Richards then decided, as he said, "to get down to him." An hour a day for three months he read aloud to him, as though reading to an intelligent listener, lying down beside him. Then one day he simply sat in a chair and read to himself. The child appeared uneasy. Mr. Richards had created a want! Lying down beside him he said: "You want me, Sylvanus" and the child breathed a responsive sound.

Two or three months more of patient reading aloud and again he took his place beside him in silence, and then saw the child trying to do something, and gradually lifted his finger and laid it on the reader's lips. Again the reading was continued, giving the child always the privilege of thus opening the lips. At last he gave his friend a smile of recognition. Mr. Richards said that smile paid him 10,000 times for all he had done, and he said to Dr. Howe: "If we can redeem one we will redeem them all over the country. Every state will found institutions for these unfortunates and every intelligent being shall feel that it is a privilege to enter this great work." We will not stop to trace the successive steps by which this child was led to walk, to talk, to grasp thoughts of God, the Creator, to feel a longing for mother-love, and finally to greet his own parent with a joyful, "Oh, my mother, I am glad to see you!"—Cor. Inter Ocean.

Singapore a City of Pets.

The city of Singapore is the chief entrepot of the Asiatic pet trade. All along the harbor the clamor of captive birds and monkeys hails the purchaser from hundreds of shops. Chinese trainers, Parsee wholesale dealers and Malay peddlers are ready to sell or buy anything from a parroquet to a hunting leopard. Singapore is the Cape Town of the Asiatic continent. Vessels of all nations call either for trading purposes or for supplies and repairs, for the harbor has the best dry-docks south of Canton, and the cheapest provision market of any Asiatic coast city. Splendid mangosteens, combining the taste of a banana and raspberry, can be bought for a few cents a bushel; sago and yam-roots are equally cheap, and, as the Malay trappers work for a shilling a week the menagerie dealers can afford to sell a monkey at a slight advance on the aggregate of his board bill.

The forests of half a hundred islands and peninsulas contribute to their stock in trade. The Malacca junks bring Gibbon apes, restless climbers with enormous arms and stumpy legs. Siam contributes lemurs and hanumans. Borneo an occasional orang; Java, parrots and wild pea-fowl; Papua, birds of paradise. Of the lemurs alone the local market terms distinguish some twenty different varieties, including the long tailed Tarsius and the Chirmandi Billi—"Bashful Billy"—a curious, phlegmatic variety of the genus Loris. —Dr. Oswald in Cincinnati Enquirer.

How a Horse Should Be Trained.

Mike J. Hester, assistant chief of the fire department, can break the stubbornest horse that ever stood on hoofs. He tamed the horse that Assistant Chief Finnerty is now driving, and that was a shyer, balker, kicker, biter, and everything else that could be mean in horseflesh. Hester made him as docile as a well-trained and good-natured dog. He trains all his horses to answer the word of command, and he can drive them, if he chooses to, without bridle. I know a gentleman who was riding with him to a fire one night when the bridle broke; my friend got cold as ice and pale as a ghost, but Mike called out to his horse, "Steady," when the animal slackened its pace, and then came the peremptory "Whoa," which brought the horse to a stand-still. Mike jumped and tied the bridle, and then resumed his run to the fire. He has all his horses trained so that when he makes his morning round of the engine-houses in his district, the horse follows him like a child.—Globe-Democrat.

Novel Use of the Stereoscope.

A novel use is made of the stereoscope to detect forged bank notes. A note of 100 francs was recently submitted to the experts of the bank of France as issued by a band of forgers, but the execution was so perfect that no defect could be discovered by the closest examination. A suggestion was then made to place the suspected note side by side with a genuine one in the objective of a stereoscope, the two images of which, as is well known, overlay each other and form a single picture. The result of the experiment was that the loop in a letter of a forged note did not exactly cover that of the genuine one, showing that they had not been printed from the same plate.—Galignani's Messenger.

Ruin of the Wrestling Business.

There is no wrestler in the country now who is making more than $3,000 a year, and there are many of them who do not get enough to provide good board and and clothes for themselves. The wrestling business has been ruin, principally by the class of men who have been in it, many of them without principle, who would wrestle in bar-rooms or do anything for a dollar or two. I made as high as $38,000 wrestling in one season, and I never made less than $6,000. I have announced that I shall wrestle no more, because I believe I have seen my best days, to use a common expression, and I can not get myself in condition now as easily as I once could.—Muldoon in Globe-Democrat.

The Amount of Travel in Cuba.

Cuba may not be very large, but her people do some traveling. During the past year the street car company of Havana transported 5,022,323 passengers, whose fares amounted to $720,303.15 in bank bills, and the number of persons, members of the company, of the police, and for other persons that traveled gratis on same, amounted to 90,094.—Chicago Herald.

Coating Wood Surface with Iron.

Coating the surface of wood with iron as a protection from the heat seems to introduce a new danger. The iron being a good conductor, the wood underneath is heated nearly as much as though uncovered, and is brought by repeated heating to an extraordinary degree of combustibility so as to become liable, according to Mr. Braidwood, to spontaneous ignition.—Chicago News.

THE PHOSPHATE BEDS OF BEAUFORT

The Great Industry of the South Carolina Coast—The Brotherhood Dredge.

The phosphate beds make the great industry of Beaufort, as of most of the coast southwest of Stone ferry; and as all the negroes average $1 a day in cash earnings, or can do so if they want to work, their general condition is good. A satisfactory explanation of these phosphate deposits has not been worked out, and it is something of a problem, as the geology of South Carolina jumps all the intermediate ages between archæan and tertiary. In the piedmont section of the state the azoic rocks stand out sharp and abrupt from the hills and line the channels of the many bright and swiftly flowing streams of that region. A little further down the slope the drift covers these rocks, and they are still there; and the excavations at Columbia bring out a horde of blue and flecked granite. A little lower, there is, in popular language, "no bed-rock." At Orangeburg they bored 1,100 feet for artesian water, and found drift all the way down—clay, sand, and marl.

Still coming down the slope, one reaches a point where the sand has traveled so far from its original matrix in the Blue ridge that it is completely triturated, and the hills have no consistency. Along this line, at an average distance of perhaps sixty miles from the coast, is a line of sand hills which seem to have been shaped by the wind and below them is the broad, flat, generally unhealthful, "low country," where the purple and chocolate-colored streams flow sluggishly over slimy bottoms, between muddy banks shrouded by the funeral moss. And yet on the seaward side of this tract, in the bottom of the creeks and inlets, but occasionally extending a long distance inland, is the phosphate rock.

It was known to be of some value as early as 1856, but nothing was done to develop it until the reconstruction legislature of 1868 chartered a company to work it. Since then the companies have paid a royalty to the state for all they took out of navigable waters or from state land, and last year the state received $175,000 from that source. As much was taken from private lands, the yield must have exceeded 200,000 tons. The supply is practically inexhaustible, as the strata wherever pierced are over twenty feet thick; and in many places it is known that successive strata is superimposed with dirt between. When first mined the rock is dark gray or nearly black; after being washed and ground it is a lighter gray. The commercial article sell at $6 to $9 per ton, and it is expected that the total yield of the state this year will be worth over $1,500,000.

A great impulse has been given the work lately by the Brotherhood dredge—the invention of Samuel Brotherhood—which takes up the rock by thirty-six iron scoop-buckets, running on axles, somewhat in the style of the endless platform of a horse-power. In the original rock are sharks' teeth and fish bones of many kinds, which, I suppose, with the phosphate of lime, make it valuable as a fertilizer. In front of where I write are two steam dredges at work; across the point are extensive works on the land, and elsewhere in the place are large establishments. A few negroes still follow the old system of wading in the shallow creeks and carrying out such detached pieces of the rock as they can handle.—"Parke" in Chicago Times.

A Strike in the Prussian Army.

The pluckiest strike on record is certainly that of a Prussian infantry company, who some thirty-five years ago took their lives in their hands and deliberately suspended their military functions in the hope of provoking an investigation that would help them get rid of the preposterous tyranny of their commanding officer. He had harrassed them for years in a way that would have secured his conviction before a commissioner on lunacy, but seeing no other way of redress, the men agreed on a strike en masse; and on the next parade day, at a preconcerted signal, came to an "order arms," grimly disregarding the captain's counter orders.

The shrieks and blasphemies of the incensed martinet failed to shake their apathy, but the moment a superior officer appeared on the scene they obeyed his commands with cheerful promptitude. Suspecting the motive of their conduct, the major ordered up four additional companies, which then formed a square around the mutineers and then marched them off to prison. The consequent investigation proved that the captain was decidedly more than half crazy; nevertheless, his victims were sentenced to penal servitude for periods varying from five to fifteen years. To a man they received the verdict with cheers, declaring that, compared with the misery of the last two years, a Prussian fortress, under a sane commander, would be a welcome harbor of refuge.—Dr. Oswald in Cincinnati Enquirer.

For the Study of Microbes.

A regular observation has been established at Montsouris, an outlaying suburb of Paris, for the study of microbes. These little creatures have risen immensely in importance since M. Pasteur first brought them into notice. The microbes in the air alone have, in addition to the observatory which is specially concerned with this branch of the family, a new science, "atmospheric micrography," all to themselves and a savant told off to catch and classify them. An ingenious species of microbe-trap," the "bacteriometre," as it is called, is kept constantly set on the premises; and Dr. Miguel, the savant in charge of the observatory, is as keenly interested in the "chasse aux microbes" as the sportsman in pursuit of larger game. Montsouris, which has been made the headquarters of micrography, does not seem the most suitable place for the purpose. At all events, microbes and bacteria are far more plentiful in the air of central Paris than in that locality. In spring, the season most favorable to the development of microbes, a cubic meter of air in the observatory is found to contain on an average 530 microbes, while a cubic meter of air in the central metropolitan district contains no fewer 9,850 of those charming creatures.—Foreign Letter.

Works of Art in Danger.

An unforeseen trouble has arisen in consequence of the secularization of the pantheon in Paris. The splendid frescoes which have occupied the leading artists of France nearly ten years are already showing signs of injury from damp. So long as regular services were held in the pantheon the constant influx of fresh air and the warmth generated by the congregations kept the interior tolerably dry. Now these influences are withdrawn, steps must be taken to preserve the frescoes. Unfortunately there are no existing means of warming the building, so that it will be necessary to erect stoves if the works of Puvis de Chavannes, Cabanel, Laurens, H. Levy, and others are to be preserved.—New York Tribune.

BLAINE AND EDMUNDS.

Quite a rumpus has been raised in political and social circles by James G. Blaine's action in refusing to take the proffered hand of Senator Edmunds of Vermont, when they met in one of the parlors of the Arthur mansion, whither both had gone to pay their last respects to the dead ex-President. Mr. Blaine's conduct has been severely commented upon by the press of both political parties. When all the facts in connection with the case are taken into consideration it will be seen that these strictures are unjust and that Blaine could not have acted otherwise without sacrificing his manhood. The Vermont Senator, who might aptly be called the icicle of the Green Mountains, in the first place, is not a man whom any one could conscientiously take by the hand and give it a warm, hearty shake. His air of superiority, his frigidity, his cynicism, his austerity forbids any such exhibition of genuine friendship.

In his younger days Edmunds was like other men, but the Senatorial toga which he has worn so many years hes gradually changed his nature and made him what he is to-day—harsh, dictatorial and self-opinionated. Blaine, when he entered the United States Senate, after enjoying the distinction of being the leader among the Republican members of the House for a long series of years, aroused the jealousy of the Vermont Senator, who saw in him a possible rival in his ambitious aspirations to reach the Presidency. From that day to this Edmunds has never ceased to throw obstructions in the way of Blaine's political advancement. In consequence there has been no love lost between the two.

In the last Presidential contest the Vermont Senator, although bound by the action of the Chicago convention to support Blaine, did everything in his power in an underhand way to defeat him. Had he came out openly and worked against the man he hated his course might have been excusable. But his methods were those of a sneak, and by innuendoes, winks and blinks he betrayed his party to gratify a personal spite.

It was unfortunate that these two men were brought face to face in the house of the dead, but for all that Blaine could not, without humiliating himself, accept the hand that had smited him. Of course, sentimentalists will say it would have been an act of bravery on his part to have done so. To such Blaine might aptly reply with Shakespear, "I dare do all to become a man. He who dares more is not a man."

THE stock panic in San Francisco, Thursday, ought to serve as a warning for honest, hard-working people to let stock gambling alone. But it wont. There are always a certain number of foolish people in this world who, in the hopes of acquiring further wealth, will entrust that which they already possess and have earned in a legitimate way, to the keeping of mining stock sharps, who sooner or later will rob them of their last cent. By the failure of a number of heavy San Francisco brokers yesterday (a failure in pocket, no doubt) hundreds of deluded people will loose their all. The sum total out of which they have been swindled will go to make two or three men rich, who will laugh in their sleeves at their victims while enjoying their ill-gotten wealth.

A DISPATCH from Washington says: The total receipts from Internal Revenue during the first four months of the present fiscal year were $38,405,000, a decrease of $1,468,000 as compared with the receipts during the corresponding period last year. There was a decrease of $2,744,000 in collections from spirits, an increase of $308,000 from tobacco, an increase of $875,000 from fermented liquors, and an increase of $77,000 on miscellaneous items.

The Boss Ultimate.

[Napa Register.]

This Winter Eastern people who come to California with the Raymond excursion parties will have opportunity to contrast the climate of our sunny slope with that of the Atlantic coast. Here in Central California they will see bright skies, green hillsides and lovely valleys. They will note an absence of blizzards and harsh, below-zero weather. They will find a productive soil, capable of being tilled at any season of the year—soil that can be had at a reasonable sum per acre. They will find vineyardists realizing from $100 to $200 per acre a season on grapes, and orchardists with cosy homes and growing bank accounts. They will see no evidences of earthquakes, electrical disturbances, hard Winters or heated Summers. They will find excellent society, first-class schools and churches of every creed. They will see that money will go farther and that life can be made to yield richer returns here than on the frozen shores they have left behind. They will find that Southern California, of which they have heard much, has no advantage over Central California, of which they have heard comparatively little. They will hear drouth prospects discussed in the first named section, but never in the last; because in these counties contiguous to the bay drouths never come and crops never fail. Nature furnishes all the moisture required and the uncertainties of irrigation are not among our assets. They will find themselves suddenly in love with our climate and capabilities, and within a twelvemonth many of them will be found permanently located within our bounderies, a happy and contented people. Talk about booms! Napa, Sonoma, Lake, Marin and other counties of Central California will very soon experience a boom that will make Los Angeles and San Diego feel lonesome; and we will not be able to help ourselves. This is our prediction and on it we rest our reputation as a prophet. One-lunged eastern people this way, please.

Boys and Girls and the Local Paper.

"The boy or girl who is a regular reader of newspapers will grow up in intelligence, and will use proper language in speaking and writing, even if their education has been limited. It is news, science, literature, history, geography and spelling combined. Sometimes it is a little difficult to get children interested in newspapers, but after they once get in the habit the intellectual cravings are as keen as the desire for food, and it is as necessary to feed their minds as their bodies. The local paper is the first to attract their attention. Incidentally they first read some of the local affairs which come under their observation. Becoming regular readers of the home paper, they soon branch out into affairs of the world, and read the general news of the day, and finally become competent to discuss matters of public interest, and are useful and important men and women."—Ex.

A Powerful Dose.

[Santa Rosa Democrat.]

The little 2-years old child of Mrs. Campbell, who resides on Humboldt street, drank a cupful of kerosene Thursday night. Mrs. Campbell's mother was about to light a fire in the kitchen stove, and had a cupful of kerosene on a table close by. The child had been feverish all day, and wanted to drink all the time, and he grabbed up the cup and quaffed the contents before his grandmother could prevent him. A physician was summoned and upon his arrival found the little one in a critical condition. The pupils of his eyes were dilated, and his flesh about the face, and portions of the body visible, looked as if it had been scalded. A large cupful of fresh milk was at once administered, which had the effect of throwing off a portion of the oil from the stomach. Equal portions of salt and mustard were then given, and the stomach was relieved of its contents. Kerosene has a similar effect upon the system as that produced by poor whisky. Some physicians say it acts like an anesthetic, and others that it is of the nature of a narcotic.

Railroad Meeting.

A mass meeting of the citizens of the Sonoma Valley was held on Saturday afternoon, November 27th, at Weyl's Hall, in pursuance of a notice circulated some time before, to discuss the question of assisting the proposed broad gauge railroad from Santa Rosa to Benicia.

A. F. Harazathy called the meeting to order, and proposed Robert Howe for Chairman, who was duly elected. Robert Poppe, was elected Secretary, but not being present, Fred. Duhring Jr., was chosen in his place.

Chairman Howe stated that a number of prominent gentlemen were present from Santa Rosa and elsewhere, who would address the citizens on the advantages to be secured by the proposed railroad.

Mr. Orr, who is to build the road, was the first speaker, and in the course of his speech assured the people that come what will, the road would be built. He was followed by Ex-Congressman J. K. Luttrell, Capt. H. W. Byington, and Col. John Walker, the latter President of the S. R. & B. C. R. R., all of whom presented very forcible reasons why this road should be built.

Prof. Finley of Santa Rosa, was called on, and in the course of an interesting speech set forth the value of railroads as educational factors.

Mr. Orr explained in regard to the right of way, that, with the exception of a few places, one had already been secured through the Sonoma Valley, running a distance of one and three-quarter miles from Sonoma City. This route would be adopted unless some assistance be given by the people of Sonoma City, in which case the depot would be located within the city limits. He said the citizens would have to subscribe from $10,000 to $15,000 and secure the right of way. Ten days were allowed in which this was to be done.

G. A. Tupper suggested the propriety of appointing a Committee on Right of Way.

It was moved by J. T. Peters and seconded by Mr. Shaw, that a committee of five be appointed on Right of Way, and a similar Committee on Subscriptions. Motion carried.

The Chairman appointed the following gentlemen on such Committees.

On Right of Way—Hon. J. K. Luttrell, Frederick Clewe, Robert Poppe, Robert Howe, John Tivnen.

On Subscriptions—A. F. Harazthy, Henry Weyl, Dr. L. B. Lawrence, Frederick Duhring, Eli T. Sheppard.

The meeting then adjourned.

COUNTY ITEMS.

A Mrs. Scott of Fulton has gone insane.

The trail of Bailiff and Reed has been set for next Tuesday.

McHall, who was shot nearly unto death by Staples, on Sonoma Mountain, is in a fair way of recovery.

Judge Temple has decided in the Petaluma Plaza case that a plaza is public property and cannot be used for other purposes.

Martin Joyce and John Guilfoyl, fanciers of other people's horses, have been sentenced to the State Prison, the latter for five and the former for seven years.

Perry Elliot, thirty years of age, committed suicide by blowing his brains out with a pistol ball, in Cloverdale, last Saturday. He was the stepson of J. G. Heald of that town and the cause of the rash act was suffering occasioned by an abscess in the head.

Old Auntie Warrington, who, with her husband, has lived the life of a hermit for upwards of thirty years on Taylor Mountain, died last Saturday at the age of 81 years. She was buried where she had lived, with the eternal hills to stand guard over and monument her last resting place.

An incendiary attempt to burn Towne's building on Main street, Petaluma, was foiled Sunday night, by the timely discovery of the blaze. Rags and shavings saturated with coal oil were the combustibles used, and underneath the floor was the place where the fire was started. Damage slight and covered by insurance.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Sheperd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklin's Arnica Salve at 25c. per box by Ed. Wegner. 5

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

The edition for 1887 of the sterling Medical Annual, known as Hostetter's Almanac, is now ready and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the United States, Mexico, and indeed in every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere. This Almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for over one-fifth of a century. It combines, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items &c., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1887 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs Hostetter & Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., on the receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

The Agua Caliente Springs Hotel, having been enlarged and refurnished is now one of the most elegant and attractive summer and winter resorts on the coast. Visitors will find the house supplied with every modern convenience, and no pains will be spared to make their stay pleasant and comfortable. Prices to correspond with the dull times. *

Mr. D. T. Hard, a gentleman who knows how to keep a hotel, has recently taken charge of the Sonoma House, and will conduct the same in first-class style. James Schram, the well-known mixologist of San Francisco, will have charge of the bar, where will be kept a fine stock of wines, liquors and cigars. See advertisement in another column.

On Thursday evening next, at the house of Mrs. McHarvey, the Congregational Church will hold its monthly social. Unlike any heretofore, this is to be a Rainbow Social, the characteristic feature of which will be the undertaking on the part of the gentlemen to hem an apron. On entering the house each gentleman will be presented with a card bearing a number, which number will correspond with one upon an apron. Finding his apron the gentleman is supposed to hem it, and the three doing the best work are to be awarded prizes—the award to be made by three lady judges. Ice cream and cake will be served as refreshments. After refreshments the aprons will be auctioned off.

MEETING OF THE TRUSTEES.

Bills Allowed for Street Improvements, Etc.—Other Matters.

A regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of Sonoma City was held on Wednesday evening, Dec. 1st, at the City Pavilion. Present—Trustees Haraszthy, Wegner, McHarvey and Lawrence and Deputy Clerk Robert Poppe. Mr. Haraszthy presided.

The minutes of the regular meeting, Nov. 3rd, and of the special meeting of the 12th ult., were read and approved.

The report of the City Marshal was received and read, and ordered referred to the Finance Committee.

The Committee on Buildings and Cemetery presented a verbal report through Trustee McHarvey, which was adopted. This Committee was instructed to procure a chandelier and chairs for the Trustees room, at a cost not to exceed twenty-five dollars.

The Board donated to S. Schocken the necessary curbing to curb Spain street, from the northeast corner of Spain and First East streets, to the limit of Schocken's property easterly, he to plank the same at his own expense. The Street Committee was instructed to establish the grade of said street.

The following bills were presented, and being audited by the proper Committees, were ordered paid:

|---|---|
| F. Breitenbach, drawing Ordinance No. 27 | $ 5 00 |
| L. Breitenbach, Tax Collector | 68 75 |
| H. H. Granice, printing | 9 00 |
| Jas. McDonnell, Jr., salary | 10 00 |
| J. U. Waters, stove, pipe, etc | 11 30 |
| J. H. Sackett, putting up chimney drayage, etc | 17 70 |
| Wm. Green, lumber | 11 70 |
| G. W. McIntyre, printing room and material | 23 74 |
| Sonoma Road Dist., one-half expense of Burris bridge | 36 48 |
| H. C. Culberson, labor | 31 00 |
| Timothy Ryan, labor | 39 90 |
| James Parish, labor with team | 43 00 |
| W. Schukowsky, labor | 9 00 |
| Walter T. Bardwell, labor with team | 77 00 |
| George W. Estes, labor with team | 54 00 |
| William Booth, labor with team | 50 00 |
| Frank P. Garmor, labor with team | 30 00 |
| J. B. Small, labor | 6 00 |
| J. M. Cheney, labor with team | 74 00 |
| G. W. McIntyre, labor | 17 00 |
| Total | $624 57 |

The clerk was instructed to deduct $4.55 from J. H. Sackett's warrant, and $1.57 from James Parish's warrant, the amounts due the City from said parties for taxes and delinquencies.

Willian Green's bill for $48.41 was rejected for informality.

The Committee on Cemetery reported a shortage of one hundred and fifty dollars for building fences and gates in the public Cemetery.

The sum of one hundred and forty dollars was appropriated out of the Treasury to meet this deficiency.

The sum of forty dollars was also appropriated to repair Fourth street East.

The resignation of F. Breitenbach, City Recorder, to take effect January 1st, 1887, was received, and on motion accepted.

J. B. Small was appointed City Recorder, his appointment to take effect from and after January 1st, next.

No further business appearing the Board adjourned.

A Contrast.

Frank R. Corabley who, with his family, left for Spokane Falls, W. T., several weeks ago, has reached his destination without adventure. In a letter to the editor of this paper, he reports the weather as being extremely cold up there. On November 24th, the date of the letter, a heavy snow storm was prevailing, with no prospect of cessation, while the thermometer was but a few degrees above zero. Ugh! What a contrast with the beautiful weather prevailing in the Sonoma Valley. Here the sky is blue, the days are warm and sunshiny and "the flowers that bloom in the spring tra la" are thriving in our gardens.

An Enormous Yield.

From a block of three and one-half acres of Zinfandel vines in the Madrone Vineyards, owned by Mr. Eli T. Sheppard, there was picked this season fifty tons and forty pounds of grapes by actual weight. The vines which produced this enormous yield are six years old, growing on gravelly loam soil without irrigation. This is the largest yield of grapes that has ever been reported in the history of grape production in this State, and we challange Fresno or any other county in Southern California to beat it.

The Hyde Ranch.

This ranch, which is one of the many in the valley that has brought in handsome returns to its owner this season, is owned by the gentleman whose name it bears, now residing in San Francisco, and for the past nine years has been under the systematic management of F. Lind. It is located a few miles from Sonoma, and in addition to a fine young vineyard, contains many acres devoted to other products of the farm and stock raising. From this young vineyard which is 6 and 7 years old, has been picked this season over 360 tons of grapes, 345 of which were disposed of to C. Aguillon for a fair price. The Zinfandels on the place average 4 tons to the acre, and the Victorias 6½, which for a young vineyard is doing remarkably well.

At the masquerade ball in Adin, last week, St. Jacobs Oil took the first prize. Nothing strange in this, as it is highly prized in every family where used—especially in ours. —Bieber, Cal., Mountain Tribune.

Deservedly Caned.

No man has a wider circle of acquaintance in Gloversville than our old friend Mr. John Christie, and the evidence before us that no man occupying the responsible position of foreman in a big glove factory, enjoys greater popularity among the employes under his supervision. About 10 o'clock yesterday morning Mr. Christe walked into the office of A. C. Churchill & Co., with whom he has been associated for many years, and was startled to find the operatives there gathered in a body. The word "strike" was wafted to his ears from a corner of the room, and an O. M. Post stepped before him the worthy foreman composed himself to hear a statement of grievance. Mr. Post addressed him in the following neat form. "Mr. Christe, it is my pleasant task to address you in the name of the entire working force of this factory, conveying to you an expression of our unbounded esteem. As foreman of the factory you have fulfilled the duties of your position with commendable ability and precision, yet tempered with a spirit of kindness which we heartily appreciate. While it is perhaps needless for me to remind you that our warmest friendship is accorded you, yet it is a source of pleasure to thus publicly express our sentiment toward you The words I have spoken are echoed in the hearts of all here assembled, and as a token of our earnestness and sincerity, we present to you this cane, which we trust you will accept and treasure in the same friendly spirit which prompts the gift. We wish you many years of life and happiness." The gift thus presented was a handsome ebony stick surmounted with a heavy gold head, on which were engraved the words: "John Christie, Oct. 20, 1886. Presented by he employes of A. C. Churchill & Co."

The gentleman alluded to in the above, clipped from the Gloversville (N. Y.) Sentinel, is a brother of Capt. Christie of this place, whom he has not seen for 28 years.

Fatal Injury.

Some four weeks ago Wiehelm, the five-year-old son of J. J. Thelen, living at Glen Ellen, while playing at school, was struck by a falling stone, thrown up into the air by a schoolmate. The injury was considered slight at the time, although the little fellow complained at times that his head hurt him. A little over two weeks ago serious symptoms began to show themselves, and the little child took to his bed, and an examination by a physician showed that an abscess had formed on the brain, from which he died on Sunday night last.

Day and Night

During an acute attack of Bronchitis, a ceaseless tickling in the throat, and an exhausting, hacking cough, afflict the sufferer. Sleep is banished, and great prostration follows. This disease is also attended with Hoarseness, and sometimes Loss of Voice. It is liable to become chronic, involve the lungs, and terminate fatally. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral affords speedy relief and cure in cases of Bronchitis. It controls the disposition to cough, and induces refreshing sleep.

For years I was in a decline. I had weak lungs, and suffered from Bronchitis and Catarrh. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral restored me to health, and I have been for a long time comparatively vigorous. In case of a sudden cold I always resort to the Pectoral, and find speedy relief.—Edward E. Curtis, Rutland, Vt.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Bronchitis. The physician attending me became fearful that the disease would terminate in Pneumonia. After trying various medicines, without benefit, he prescribed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved me at once. I continued to take this medicine, and was cured. —Ernest Colton, Logansport, Ind. ††

SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE.

SATURDAY, DEC. 4, 1886.

The San Francisco Examiner, speaking of the latest murder in San Francisco, says that "a quarrel over fifty cent impelled P. A. Dolan to place his neck in danger of the hangman's noose." The Examiner must certainly be very green, or it never would have been guilty of such a foolish statement. Within a month or so, the cell of this gentleman will be redolent with the perfume of rose and hyacinth, soft hands will bring him toothsome delicacies, and sweet voices pour words of comfort and affection in his ear. Mayhap that affection will go so far that the services of the minister will follow fast upon a consultation with the doctor—as was the case with that cowardly murderer, Genung, and the young ministering angel whom he had to marry. If Dolan is ever sentenced, it will not be to the gallows, and whatever term he will receive will be shortened by a sympathetic Governor, who knows his services will be missed at the polls in San Francisco. It may be that he will escape altogether, the jury holding that the man who demands the payment of a fifty-cent debt takes his life into his own hands. In that event, why should he not be driven through the streets in a barouche, as young Kalloch, amid the plaudits of admiring thousands, while fair hands scatter flowers from overhead, and delicate fluttering handkerchiefs make picturesque all the windows?—Sacramento Bee.

How to Preserve the Eyesight.

For the care of the eyes the following rules are laid down by a noted oculist:

Keep a shade on your lamp or gas burner.

Never begin to read, write or sew for several minutes after coming from darkness to light.

Never read by twiltght, moonlight or on cloudy days.

Never read or sew directly in front of the light, window or door.

It is best to let the light fall from above obliquely over the left shoulder.

Never sleep so that on awakening the eyes shall open on the light of a window.

Do not use the eyesight by light so scant that it requires an effort to discriminate.

The moment you are instinctively prompted to rub your eyes, that moment stop using them.

If the eyelids are glued together on waking up, do not forcibly open them, but apply saliva with the finger—it is the speediest dilutant in the world; then wash your eyes and face in warm water.—Exchange.

To Husbands.

So much is said about the obligations laid upon the wife to be sunshiny at home that a word to the husbands may not be amiss. It is very difficult for a wife to maintain a calm and charming sweet demeanor when her husband is critical or sullen, and takes her tender efforts with indifferent appreciation. If the man is breezy, cherry, considerate and sympathetic, his wife sings in her heart over puddings and mending basket, and counts the hours till he returns at night, and renews her youth in the sincerity she feels in his admiration. In a home there should be no jar, no striving for place, no insisting prerogatives, no divisions of interest; the husband and wife are each the complement of the other. And it is as much his duty to be cheerful and kind as it is hers to be patient; his right to bring joy into the door as it is hers to sweep and garnish the pleasant interior. A family where the daily walk of the father makes life a festival is filled with heavenly benediction.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years has astonished the world. It is the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, Colds and the severest Lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price, 75cts., large bottles.

The ties formed at sociables sometimes lead to matrimonial knots.

Scarlet Fever and Diphtheria

are spread by contagion, by the transfer of living matter from the skin, the membranous lining of the mouth, nose and throat, and from the intestions and urinary organs. Disinfect promptly and thoroughly with Darbys Prophylatic Fluid, the great germ destroyer. Prof. H. T. Lupton, of the Vanderbilt University, Tenn., says: "As a disinfectant and detergent Darbys Prophylatic Fluid is superior to any preparation with which I am acquainted."

DANGEROUS DRUGS:

How to Control Effectually All Such Horrible Habits.

Rochester, N. Y. Post-Express.

A gentleman who has spent the summer abroad, said to our reporter, that the thing that impressed him most of all was the number of holidays one encounters abroad and the little anxiety the people display in the conduct of business affairs. "Men boast here," he said, "that they work for years without a day off; in Europe that would be considered a crime."

Mr. H. H. Warner, who was present at the time, said, "This is the first summer in years that I have not spent on the water. Been too busy."

"Then, I suppose you have been advertising extensively?"

"Not at all. We have always heretofore closed our laboratory during July, August and September, but this summer we have kept it running day and night to supply the demand, which has been three times greater than ever before in our history at this season."

"How do you account for this?"

"The increase has come from the universal recognition of the excellence of our preparations. We have been nearly ten years before the public and the sales are constantly increasing while our newspaper advertising is constantly diminishing. Why, high scientific and medical authorities, now publicly concede that our Warner's safe cure is the only scientific specific for kidney and liver diseases and for all the many diseases caused by them."

"Have you evidence of this?"

"Abundance! Only a few weeks ago Dr. J. L. Stephens, of Lebanon, Ohio, a specialist for the cure of narcotic, etc., habits told me that a number of eminent scientific medical men had been experimenting for years, testing and analyzing all known remedies for the kidneys and liver, for, as you may be aware, the excessive use of all narcotics and stimulants destroys those organs, and until they can be restored to health the habits cannot be broken up! Among the investigators were such men as J. M. Hall, M. D., President of the State Board of Health of Iowa, and Alexander Neil, M. D., Professor of Surgery in the college of Physicians and Surgeons and president of the Academy of Medicine at Columbus, who, after exhaustive inquiry, reported that there was no remedy known to schools or to scientific inquiry equal to Warner's safe cure!"

"Are many persons addicted to the use of deadly drugs?"

"There are forty millions of people in the world who use opium alone, and there are many hundreds of thousands in this country who are victims of morphine, opium, quinine and cocaine. They think they have no such habit about them—so many people are unconscious victims of these habits. They have pains and symptoms of what they call malaria and other diseases, when in reality it is the demand in the system for these terrible drugs, a demand that is caused largely by physicians' prescriptions which contain so many dangerous drugs, and strong spirits, and one that must be answered or silenced in the kidneys and liver by what Dr. Stephens says is the only kidney and liver specific. He also says that moderate opium and other drug eaters, if they sustain the kidney and liver vigor with that great remedy, can keep up these habits in moderation."

"Well does not this discovery give you a new revelation of the power of safe cure?"

"No, sir; for years I have tried to convince the public that nearly all the diseases of the human system originate in some disorder of the kidneys or liver, and hence I have logically declared that if our specific were used, over ninety per cent. of these ailments would disappear. The liver and kidneys seem to absorb these poisons from the blood and become depraved and diseased."

"When these eminent authorities thus publicly admit that there is no remedy like ours to enable the kidneys and liver to throw off the frightful effects of all deadly drugs and excessive use of stimulants it is an admission of its power as great as any one could desire; for if through its influence alone the opium, morphine, quinine, cocaine and liquor habits can be overcome, what higher testimonial of its specific power could be asked for?"

"You really believe then, Mr. Warner, that the majority of diseases come from kidney and liver complaints?"

"I do! When you see a person moping and groveling about, half dead and half alive, year after year, you may surely put him down as having some kidney and liver trouble."

"The other day I was talking with Dr. Fowler, the eminent occulist of this city, who said that half the patients who came to him for eye treatment were affected by advanced kidney disease. Now many people wonder why in middle life their eye sight becomes so poor. A thorough course of treatment with Warner's safe cure is what they need more than a pair of eye glasses. The kidney poison in the blood always attacks the weakest part of the body; with some it affects the eyes; with others the head; with others the stomach or the lungs, or rheumatic disorders follows and neuralgia tears them in pieces, or they lose the powers of taste, smell or become impotent in other functions of the body. What man would not give his all to have the vigor of youth if command?"

"The intelligent physician knows that these complaints are but symptoms; they are not the disorder, and they are symptoms not of disease of the head, the eye, stomach, or of virility, necessarily, but of the kidney poison in the blood and they may prevail and no pain occur in the kidneys."

It is not strange that the enthusiasm which Mr. Warner displays in his application of his own remedy, which rescued him to health when the doctors said he could not live six months, should become infectious and that the entire world should pay tribute to its power. Or as Mr. Warner says, the sales are constantly increasing, while the newspaper advertising is constantly diminished—which speaks volumes in praise of the extraordinary merits of his preparation.

Great Hosh.

[New York Sun.]

The paragraph saying that Geronimo is pronounced "Heeronimo" has reached San Angelo, where they ought to know how to pronounce the name, and leads the Standard to exclaim: "Hood gracious! what is he hiving us? What a hay and hiddy style of talk this hentleman would het us into. By hosh, we won't have it. Ho to! ho to!

Seventeen years ago when Pat McCoy of Wilkesbarre, Pa., left his wife and went west to make a fortune, he was a very spare man. The other day, when he returned with a few thousand dollars and a weight of 250 pounds, Mrs. McCoy refused to recognize him as her lean husband. She had not heard from him during all his absence. McCoy takes her refusal to recognize him much to heart.

"Maria, I wish you would keep still," said Brown, trying to write. "Your tongue is like Tennyson's Brook; it goes on forever."

"Hump!" answered Mrs. B., indignantly, "I suppose you think that's a joke?"

"Well I meant it for a sort of a gag."

Good Results in Every Case.

D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was seriously afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; had tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so and was entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all Coughs and Colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Trial bottles free at Wegner's Drug Store.

Drunkeness, or Liquor Habit. can be Cured by Administering Dr. Haines Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it, effecting a speedy and permananent cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

AGENTS WANTED for the MISSOURI STEAM Washer

Active, honest persons all over the country, with or without team.

JOHN C. EVANS, Secretary, Mo., writes: "I send my self agent that a Washer saves more hard labor and money in a large family than any Washer and Wringer that ever was put on any farm with less than 100 yards application. If you will get up any instrument that will take as much labor off of men as this Washer takes off the women, and save as much money in it does and not as much trouble, I would sell one every house. If they had to take the feathers from under their wife and babies to pay for it." JOHN A. DODD, Jr., Jessies, Ind., writes: "I do not think I think of the Washer I bought last summer. Ink. It is the best machine ever invented by man. Pat. We have just as good dinners on Monday we ever invented by man. Pat. We have just as good dinners on Monday as on any other day. Ike. If you run short, you can not buy ours for $100."

I will ship a sample to those desiring an agency on a week's trial on liberal terms. A thousand per cent the best seller in the world for saving labor, clothes and soap. Pays capable agents big money. Write for particulars.
